February 2015

This month we will introduce the theme “How Does it move?” Through this themed unit we aim to discover how living and non-living things move in general. Children should have able opportunities to use tools, along with scientific and mathematical ideas, to solve problems and figure out about how and why things move. Students will be encouraged to identify ways to make things move and to create a structure that can be used to move something from one place to another. Children should have many additional opportunities to view, describe, and discuss the movement of objects and to identify the forces behind them. Moreover, children will understand that not only people and products move, but also ideas and information. This includes teaching and learning new technologies and enhances the critical access of information. In addition we will learning about India. In art they will learn about the artist of the month “Oswaldo Guayasamin”
